

President Sue called the meeting to order January 8th at 6 pm at Willow Pond.

The Treasurer's Report was read, which included an update on the harvester and elevator status: they are in good shape after repairs; those expected bills will be arriving soon.

The Sunshine Report: Sally announced that a sympathy card had been sent to Karl Wolfinger's widow. His daughter had asked to have memorial money sent to the WPLA.

Update on the cattail issue was discussed: Weyauwega fire chief referred inquiries to Fox Valley Tech as possible training for their department. Targeted plants are what are in navigational lanes for residents.

The April Spring Bash, scheduled for Saturday, April 27, 2024, was discussed. Sign up sheets for various roles were passed around. Sandi Zier has volunteered to prepare the meat again, Joe Wyngaard will handle beverages. Prizes include: raffle items, gift baskets and items in the silent auction. Several guns have been purchased for the raffle and further discussion about other possible prizes ensued. Fleet Farm has been requested to donate a kayak again, we have a fish camera and three money prizes, Silent auction items so far: an electric guitar and quilt. WPLA's FaceBook page will list some of the items. Advertising, new signs and their locations were discussed.

New Business: membership forms and riparian lane clearing sign up, and Spring Bash letters will be sent out soon.

Old Business: Carol Heacox was approved as Treasurer. Lake levels were briefly discussed.

PLEASE NOTE: Next meeting will be February 5th instead of the usual second Monday of the month.

Meeting was adjourned.

Carol Bentley, WPLA Secretary
